Nora Benmakhlouf

Madison, WI | norabenmakhlouf@gmail.com | 608-335-3643

Summary

I am aspiring front-end Web and application developer pursuing opportunities in the tech community. Through my recent training I've gained experience working with HTML, CSS and JavaScript. Prior to this, I worked in healthcare area as well as retail, providing exceptional and detail-oriented customer service. I am seeking a position in the IT industry where I can develop, utilize my skills, and also contribute to the successes of my team.

Skills

Technical: HTML, CSS, JavaScript, Bootstrap
Software: Microsoft Office Suite, Sketch, WordPress
Languages: Fluent in English, Arabic and French

Professional Experience

Sales Associate: Boston Store, Madison WI

2013 to present
- Provide guidance and resolve issues for customers
- Assist customers with purchases and opening credit card accounts
- Maximize sales through product promotion and merchandising

Medical Assistant: American Community Medical Center Madison,WI

2011-2013
- Prepared around 20 patients per day for exams by taking their vitals and educating them on health improvements
- Maintained confidential patient information on electronic health record (Practice Fusion)
- Performed basic laboratory tests and followed up on results
- Interpreted and translated for patients with limited English

Preventive Health Assistant Physician: City Public Health Sector Ras El Oued, (Algeria)

1995-2008
- School health: Screened school children for basic health concerns and vaccination
- Maternal and infant health: followed up on mothers and infant health and referred them to appropriate centers and specialists

Education

YWeb Career Academy, Madison, WI
Web Development and Design Training
2017

Madison Area Technical College, Madison WI
General Studies
2009-2010

Ferhat Abbas University, Setif, Algeria
Equivalent to BS in Prevention Public Health
1988-1994